

Prevent failures

Switches, train detection and railroad crossings cause by far the most failures. POSS, Strukton Rail's online monitoring system, continually follows those objects. The system spots deviations from the regular pattern for each object. In so doing, POSS makes it possible to repair the objects before they break down. POSS has proved to be able to prevent 50 to 70% of the technical failures.

<back>